YOU'RE A GOOD MAN CHARLIE BROWN

This year's fall drama production, "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown", was a dramatic change from the large scale productions of past years. The cast and orchestra were smaller, but the enthusiasm and quality was as grand as ever. A reduction in the seating area provided a more intimate atmosphere and allowed more audience involvement.

"Charlie Brown", written by Clark Gesner, was based on the ever-popular comic strip "Peanuts". The six-character cast, directed by Fr. R. McKinnon, Fr. C. Zinger and Sr. Edna Martin, brought the animated figures to life for the audience through the many cartoon like skits.

CAST: Matt Gyulay, Paul Nacarato, Rob Leon, Mary Wakim, Sue Chapman, Steve Bochenek.

ORCHESTRA: Mark Kovich, Stephen Budaci, Paul McKenna, Fr. Cecil Zinger.

GEN ROSSO

Last September, St. Mike's was host to the international music group, Gen Rosso. Their repertoire of songs, based on the theme of love, enriched students and staff alike with its vivid mosaic of cultural expression and language.

CROSS COUNTRY

TEAM RECORD

St. Mike's cross-country team was the top overall boys team at every meet in which they participated this year. This outstanding record made them the number one ranked boys overall team in Ontario for a second consecutive year. At the TDCAA, the senior and junior first place, and the bantam third place, gave the cross-country team the TDCAA Overall Championship for the fourth year in a row. St. Mike's was well represented at the McQuaid Jesuit Invitational in Rochester, N.Y. The Cross-Country team defeated the top ranked teams from the northeastern U.S. to capture the McQuaid Jesuit Varsity AAA Championship. According to the American coaches, St. Michael's is one of the top teams in North America.

SENIORS

The seniors had an undefeated season, placing first at the Belt Line Relays, and the SMC, York, East York, and TSSAA Invitionals. They were TDCAA gold medalists and finished third at OFSAA. At the McQuaid Invitational, the senior team finished first in the Varsity AAA. Thady Blundell, the team captain, was also the MVP. He won the individual championship at the SMC, York, East York, and TSSAA Invitionals. Thady was first at the TDCAA and fourth at the McQuaid Invitational. At the Canadian Junior Championship (under 20 years), Thady Finished fourteenth, sixth among high school students. This running record makes Thady one of the top high school runners in Canada.

JUNIOR TEAM: FRONT ROW (L TO R): P. Guinane, T. Souza, R. DeCastro, W. Palma, E. Gallant, M. Rutherford, T. Blacker, Mr. P. Monahan (Coach) BACK ROW: S. Seto, M. Kramarchuk, M. McGowan, J. Bolan, R. Cattana, A. Farrugia, M. Pluscauskas, S. Callaghan, P. McGowan, C. Bayley, I. Sovran, R. Crombie.

It was a good season for the juniors, with first place wins at the Belt Line Relays, the SMC and East York Invitationals, and the TSSAA. They were TDCAA champions, and silver medalists at OFSAA. John Bolan was the Junior MVP. He was the TDCAA gold medalist, placed first at the SMC Invitational, second at the York, East York, and TSSAA Invitationals, and came fifth at the McQuaid Invitational. At OFSAA, John finished sixth.

BANTAM TEAM: FRONT ROW (L TO R): R. Miehme, W. Tinmouth, I. Iwanski, B. Keith, K. Seto, M. DeChellis BACK ROW: W. Sallese, B. McGeown, J. Benic, C. Loftus, M. Vidov.

The bantams also had a good season, finishing in the top few positions at every meet. There is much hope for the future from these young athletes. The bantam MVP was Chris Loftus, a hard working team leader. His season began slowly with a ninth place finish at the SMC Invitational. However, at the TDCAA Championship, Chris was the individual silver medalist, and at the provincial meet, he placed thirty-first.

The team finished fourth with a 15 and 8 record in regular season play. Joe Biondic is slowly emerging as the team's best hitter, and should contribute a great deal to the offence next year. The MVP was Steve Ciz. Steve was the most experienced and consistent player on this year's team.

JUNIOR VOLLEYBALL

The Junior Volleyball team had problems this year, finishing fourth in their division with 9 wins and 11 losses. This very talented team failed to play as a coherent unit on many occasions. On the court, Tony directed the play as well as the players.

Activities

The time is 1850. The place is the streets of London. And walking along the street is a small orphan boy named Oliver.

This scene is familiar to almost everyone. It is the setting for Charles Dickens' classic tale, "Oliver". This play was brought to life on St. Mike's stage as this year's spring musical. Much new talent came to the fore in this play and many of these young actors and actresses will no doubt be seen in future productions at St. Mike's.

Fr. McKinnon once again directed the play with assistance from Mr. Story, Mr. Thompson, and Sr. Edna Martin from Loretto Abbey. Mr. John Guerriere orchestrated the fine student musicians.

That famous line, "Please sir, I want some more," was possibly the thought of many in the audience as the final curtain fell.

GRADUATION

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Remember how, as 'miners' passing through the archway of this august institution SAINT MICHAEL'S COLLEGE SCHOOL, our energies and aspirations were directed towards this one, vaguely defined day called 'graduation'? Now that we each hold proudly in our hands what some facetiously dub our 'passport to the future' - our diplomas, we can at least sit back, loosen our ties and relax! I don't think that an entire speech is necessary to sum up the sentiments of the graduating class. The task can be accomplished quite simply using one word - RELIEF! It's taken us five years to arrive at this moment and undeniably, when we leave, we shall miss Saint Michael's. The funny thing is, Saint Michael's will also miss us! As a graduating class, we have been characterized by our ability to (with all due respects to Sean Dodds) STAND OUT from the crowd, excelling in all areas of school life from athletics to academics and the Arts.

We hold in front of us our diplomas, but our naturally inquisitive minds, sharpened no doubt by five years of mental exercise, pose the inevitable question, "What is graduation?" Father Pare, in his homily, gave us some interesting insights, but it won't be until our diplomas are carefully put away, and the champagne glasses are put back on the shelf, and the hullabaloo has died down that the real implications of this strange ceremony called 'graduation' begin to hit us.

I was trying to find a theme for this graduation reflection and after looking at about a dozen KAI's, it finally dawned upon me that the most extraordinary of all themes could be found in the most ordinary of life's events. I remember asking a child once who his favourite story book or movie character was (expecting him to say, of course, Superman or at least E.T.) His answer was unexpected - "Janus". "Who?", I asked, as puzzled then as you probably are now. The child showed me his picture book and sure enough, there in front of me was Janus, the Roman deity with two faces, one looking to the past and the other looking to the future . . . I had found my theme. You see, there are few pivotal moments in our lives where the past and future seem interconnected. Graduation is one of those moments. And so today when we are all dressed up and looking distinguished in our suits and cravats, we are invited not only to look to the past but also to look towards the future.

We have spent five years together at Saint Michael's. What are some of our memories? There are perhaps memories of yellow brick walls and the Tower, memories of football in the tennis courts in September and baseball in May, memories of KAI'S and Hollowmen and Grub Days, and dreaded memories of exams and late slips and 214. But it is important when we reminisce today, that we don't forget to look also at the future. We've got our diplomas and that's marvelous, but what's next? What comes next, what we accomplish in the future, depends directly on one thing - who we are. That seems like an easy thing to say, but who are we? Do we even have the full answer? I think not. The discovery of who we are is afterall our best definition of 'life'. But we do know one thing after five years at Saint Michael's, and it is one thing that I hope we shall remember long after everything else is forgotten. The partial answer to the question, "Who are we" lies in the response "We are GOOD people." That is important to remember because it is going to take all the courage, all the wisdom and all the goodness within us to reach out to that world of ours, a world characterized by a list of "ins" - injustice, insensitivity, and intolerance. Let us not forget the words of the Carpenter of Nazareth, the Master of the Universe, the God-Man whom the human race crucified two thousand years ago: "You are the light of the world. May your light shine before humanity." Somewhere in this world lies a task that can only be accomplished using our unique talents and our individual gifts. The greatest of all gifts is the gift of ourselves in commitment to a world that is more human, more just, more merciful and ultimately, more divine.

To be quite frank, we haven't always lived up to the name 'Christian', but in five years at Saint Michael's, at least we've tried and, whether we are aware of it or not, our faith has grown from the apologetic, "I'm really sorry I'm a Christian, but it's hardly my fault" to the point where we can say with a sense of dignity and maturity, "Yes, I am Christian. Yes, I can do something about this world."

I've always been fascinated by old sayings. Maybe it's because they can say in one sentence what I cannot hope to say in an entire speech. There is one adage that goes, "You don't put old heads upon young shoulders". Perhaps today, we can add something to that. "You don't put old heads on young shoulders because young heads are good enough." Respecting the heritage of our elders - the world that we inherit will be moulded by the youth of today. There is a sense of urgency in the air, especially as the world approaches the turning point in human history - the coming of the second Christian millennium. As we leave this sanctuary today to enter the boardrooms and the public squares of the world, let us take with us the spirit of Saint Michael's. That, by no means, is an exhortation to do the Holkety Choik seven days a week, nor is it any indication that MICHAEL PRINCE OF ALL THE ANGELS will hit the top of the charts in households from Aurora to Mississauga. What I mean by the "Spirit of Saint Michael's" is something more profound and it is exemplified in the spirit of cooperation and mutual respect of differences that characterizes our school community. It is in recognition of this spirit that I wish to say, or at least try to say, a few words to our Italian friends and family. Ci sono oggi in questa chiesa molti genitori italiani. Allora vorrei dire queste parole in italiano. Oggi condivido con voi la gioia che avete nel vostro cuore, nel vedere i frutti del vostro lavoro e dei vostri sacrifici.

I think there is no better way to end this graduation reflection than by thinking of all those people who have touched our lives in a profound way - our friends, our teachers and our parents. It is to these that I wish to dedicate this poem:

We did not understand at first the meaning of your smile.
We were Grade Niners, young men with potential waiting to emerge.
Along you came, and guided us, and we were changed.
It was no miracle that you worked, no Herculean task that you accomplished.
You did what many had done before, but you were different.
You worked not for us, but with us,
You were our friends, our teachers, our family.
You opened windows we had barred inside and so the sun filters through.
Dear friends, the time we spent together was brief,
But we shall treasure it.
And though our minds may soon forget the days of these past years, still
We have grown,
And what is more,
You too have grown . . . Because of us.
